RE: JULIUS ROSENBERG
ESPIONAGE - R

Re Washington Field teletype, 8/9/50.

MAX ELITCHER was interviewed on August 11, 1950, concerning ABRAHAM FROKSON and LEO SCHUBERT. Information concerning these individuals obtained from ELITCHER is set forth in a memorandum by SA VINCENT J. CAHILL, under the caption of MAX ELITCHER; HELENE ELITCHER; ESPIONAGE - R, file 65-14873, which is dated August 14, 1950.

MEMO

RE: MAX ELITCHER; HELENE ELITCHER
ESPIONAGE - R

On August 11, 1950, MAX ELITCHER was interviewed at the New York office by the undersigned agent, at which time he furnished the following information:

ELITCHER was unable to identify a photograph of RUSSELL A. McNUTT. ELITCHER was shown four different photographs of VIVIAN GLASSMAN, but stated that he did not know this individual and had never met her. ELITCHER made available to the reporting agent a photograph, together with a negative, of WILLIAM DAI ZIGER and his wife and child, which photograph ELITCHER advised was taken in 1946 after DAI ZIGER had returned to Washington from the West Coast. This photograph and negative need not be returned.

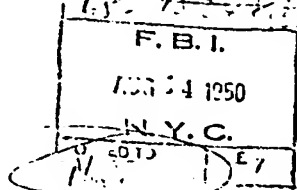

ELITCHER also made available a group photograph of nineteen individuals of the School of Engineering of the City College of New York from the class of 1938. In this photograph, he identified two of the individuals as STANLEY RICH and WILLIAM DANZIGER. It is noted that neither ELITCHER or JULIUS ROSENBERG, JOEL BARR or WILLIAM PERL appear in this photograph, according to ELITCHER. ELITCHER requested that this photograph be returned to him when it had served its purpose.

ELITCHER advised that MORTON SOBELL, to his knowledge, had never attended Hebrew Church or Synagogue and had never spoken of attending religious services. ELITCHER stated that to the best of his knowledge, SOBELL had never had any religious training when he was a young boy.

ELITCHER further stated that neither he nor his wife have observed any activity at SOBELL'S home within the past few weeks. He stated that his house does not face directly on SOBELL'S garage and consequently, he is not in a position to observe any movement of SOBELL'S car from the garage unless someone opens the garage door which connects with the foyer of SOBELL'S home. ELITCHER stated that should he or his wife notice any activity either at SOBELL'S home or garage, he would notify this office at once.

MEMO

With regard to ABRAHAM FOOKSON and LEO SHUBERT, ELITCHER furnished the following information:

He stated that he first met ABE FOOKSON sometime in 1939, but cannot recall the circumstances under which they met. ELITCHER stated that he was not sure but thought that he possibly met FOOKSON on one other occasion, perhaps in 1941 or early 1942, when he visited a house in which EDDIE HILLMAN resided.

HILLMAN had resided with ELITCHER at 1316 Delafield Place, Washington, D.C., until the early part of 1940 when he moved out and moved into an apartment with a group of four or five individuals, all of whom came from the City College of New York and worked in Washington. ELITCHER stated that he recalled visiting HILLMAN on one occasion at this new address which he believed was located in the 1800 block on Ingles Terrace, Washington, D.C. He stated that he had a vague recollection that FOOKSON was one of the individuals residing there with HILLMAN at that time, but he could not say this with certainty.

ELITCHER stated that as far as he knows, FOOKSON, at that time, was an engineer and he believed that he worked for the Bureau of Standards in Washington, D.C. He indicated that he has not seen FOOKSON for approximately nine years and does not know his whereabouts. He stated that he knew of no relationship between FOOKSON and ROSENBERG and did not know whether ROSENBERG knew FOOKSON.

With regard to LEO SCHUBERT, ELITCHER stated that SCHUBERT is presently employed in the Bureau of Standards and he believes that

MEMO

NY 65-14873

SCHUBERT is a member of the FAECT. He last saw SCHUBERT on August 8, 1950 when the SCHUBERTS were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. HERSHKOVITZ, who reside in Long Island and who are friends of the ELITCHERS.

ELITCHER stated that the SCHUBERTS and the HERSHKOVITZS visited his home on August 8, 1950, at which time SCHUBERT indicated that he was still employed at the Bureau of Standards. ELITCHER advised that SCHUBERT was a good friend of ART IBERALL, who is presently employed in the Bureau of Standards in Washington, D.C., and who is very active in the FAECT.

ELITCHER stated that he first came in contact with SCHUBERT in about 1946 or early 1947 when he and a group of other individuals associated themselves in a plan to build homes in a community. ELITCHER stated that among the individuals in this group were ARTHUR IBERALL, SOL TABOR, ABE WEISS, LEO SCHUBERT, an individual named GREEN, first name unknown, and ELITCHER.

ELITCHER stated that the intention was to associate in contemplation of building a cooperative housing development either in Washington or close to Washington. He stated that he and the other members of the group planned to limit the number of families in this community to 20. ELITCHER indicated that the group did not incorporate and did not form any company, but that ART IBERALL appeared to be an individual who directed most of the group's activities. ELITCHER advised that an account was maintained at a local bank in Washington under the name of Mrs. TABOR, and that her personal account at this bank was the depository into which money was placed which each member of the group contributed. ELITCHER advised that it amounted to a forced plan for savings and he said that he and each of the other members paid $10.00 per week into the fund. Eventually, they were to purchase property and then build homes.

ELITCHER advised that the individuals which formed this group had previously belonged to a similar cooperative housing development plan in another section of Washington, but had withdrawn from this original plan because there was considerable opposition and disagreement on procedure among the members of the group. Accordingly, the ones who appeared to have been dissatisfied in the original housing plan joined together to initiate a similar housing development project to which ELITCHER belonged. He stated that this first group eventually purchased the Bannockburn Country Club, Washington, D.C., as a site on which to build their project homes.

ELITCHER stated that his association with SCHUBERT was limited to the development of this housing plan and he said that he did not see SCHUBERT from the time he left Washington, D.C., in about September 1948 until the visit by the SCHUBERTS in August, 1950. As before, ELITCHER advised that he did not know whether SCHUBERT knew JULIUS ROSENBERG or whether he had any association with him. He indicated that to his knowledge, SCHUBERT did not know JULIUS ROSENBERG.

Regarding LEWIS REESE, ELITCHER stated that this individual was presently employed as an electrical engineer at the Reeves Instrument Corporation, 215 East 91st Street, New York City. He stated that REESE had begun to work there in the early part of 1948. He advised that REESE was presently the contracting officer of the Reeves Instrument Corporation and was handling the contractual end of the "Gunas" System on which ELITCHER is presently working.

REESE had been a Lieutenant Commander assigned to the Bureau of Ordnance, Navy Department, Washington, D.C., handling fire control systems and anti-aircraft work. He was assigned to the Bureau of Ordnance in 1943 or 1944 and remained there until 1946 when he went to work as a civilian in a power company, name unknown, which was located in the Los Angeles area of California. ELITCHER stated that he was employed in Los Angeles at this power company until the early part of 1948 when he started to work for Reeves Instrument Corporation.

ELITCHER stated that he was not well acquainted with REESE in Washington, stating he was assigned to the Anti-Aircraft Research and Development Section of the Bureau of Ordnance in the latter part of 1945 just prior to the time that REESE left the Bureau. ELITCHER stated that he attended two farewell parties at which REESE was present. One of these parties was held at REESE'S home and ELITCHER and his wife were invited. The other party was a joint party held for REESE'S and Commander

NY 65-14873

J. BRIDGES' benefit. Commander BRIDGES was leaving the Bureau of Ordnance as an officer, but was remaining at work there as a civilian. The second party was held at BRIDGES' home. ELITCHER and his wife attended. ELITCHER advised that REESE'S wife was present on both occasions, but added that he did not know anything of her background and in fact did not know her first name.

ELITCHER stated that to his knowledge, REESE had never been a member of the Communist Party. He indicated further that from his knowledge of REESE gained at the Reeves Instrument Corporation, he could not visualize REESE as being a Communist either by what he said or did or by any position he maintained in political discussions.

ELITCHER stated that he was an acquaintance of REESE'S at Reeves Instrument Corporation, but did not associate with him and only had conversations with him primarily about the work. He never went out socially with REESE. Similarly, he stated that he did not know whether any close friendship existed between MARTIN SOBELL and LEWIS REESE, but said that to his knowledge they had never gone out socially nor did they appear to be good friends. He indicated, however, that in the former course of procedure, many occasions would arise when REESE and SOBELL would necessarily have to consult on matters involving the work being done at the Reeves Instrument Corporation. He stated that with this in mind, it would be quite normal for them to be seen together either in conversation or going to lunch. He indicated, however, that to his knowledge, REESE and SOBELL did not go out socially and he added that so far as he knew, no relationship existed between them.

ELITCHER advised that as near as he could tell and from his own personal knowledge, REESE was in no way involved with SOBELL in espionage work nor was REESE acquainted with JULIUS ROSENBERG. ELITCHER indicated that he had often wondered why REESE had not been given clearance by the Navy Department and said that he often wondered whether clearance for REESE had been denied because REESE was observed talking to SOBELL and to him.

It is noted in the captioned file that Lt. Commander MORTON A. PRAGER of the Bureau of Ordnance, Navy Department, Washington, advised that ELITCHER on one occasion had telephoned that office from New York in another matter and upon concluding his business had spoken to ELITCHER over the telephone and had specifically asked PRAGER as a spokesman for the Navy Department to grant him clearance to go aboard the USS Mississippi. This took place about June 17, 1949.

ELITCHER was questioned regarding this and he advised that since January 1949, he knew that he did not have clearance from the Navy Department to go aboard any vessels containing Navy secret equipment. He said that as a result, he never made any trips for the Reeves Instrument Corporation and never inquired of the management about the security clearance. ELITCHER stated that he knew PRAGER from the Bureau of Ordnance and had often spoken to him over the telephone, but never had he requested clearance of him so that he could go aboard the USS Mississippi.

ELITCHER indicated further that he had never personally made any reservations with the National Airlines in June of 1949 to go to Norfolk, Virginia. He stated that he was unable to explain this apparent confusion, but added that he was absolutely certain that he had never requested clearance of the Navy to go aboard the Mississippi, nor had he ever made any such reservation. ELITCHER stated that it was customary for the management to request clearance of the Navy for a particular individual when the occasion arose. He stated that he understood this procedure and would not have thought of violating it.

ELITCHER further remarked that Lt. Commander PRAGER, even if he had received such a request for clearance, would not have been in a position to issue such clearance on his own authority. He stated that PRAGER'S first duty after receiving this request would be to refer it to the Administrative Section of the Bureau of Ordnance, which handled security clearances. He also advised that it was customary that the individual receiving the call on a request for security clearance would fill out a form and route it to the Administrative Section of the Bureau with his recommendation as to whether clearance should be given. ELITCHER stated, however, that the ultimate determination as to whether clearance was to be given on that rested with the Administrative Section.

ELITCHER stated further that he had never been called in by the management at the Reeves Instrument Corporation regarding a telegram received from the Bureau of Ordnance, Navy Department, granting him clearance to go aboard the USS Mississippi. ELITCHER stated that possibly someone else may have endeavored to secure clearance to go aboard the Mississippi using his name, but he indicated that this was very unlikely since PRAGER knew him personally and knew his voice over the telephone.

MEMO

ELITCHER also left with the reporting agent for review many copies of his travel vouchers which he executed while employed by the Bureau of Ordnance of the Navy Department. ELITCHER brought these to the New York office in the hope of establishing dates of his meetings with SOBELL and ROSENBERG in New York.

Re: JULIUS ROSENBERG
ESPIONAGE - R

Dear Sir:

In connection with the information furnished by David Greenglass relative to the material furnished by him to Harry Gold and Julius Rosenberg, the FBI headquarters at Washington, D.C. has been in communication with the Atomic Energy Commission relative to the classified nature of the information and we have been advised as follows:

With respect to the signed statement of Greenglass dated July 17, 1950, which is set out in the summary report of Special Agent John W. Lewis, dated July 22, 1950, at New York in this case, starting on Page 11, and continuing on the following page, there appears information concerning the "Naval type atom bomb." The Atomic Energy Commission has advised as follows: "The Hiroshima type bomb was never officially designated as the 'Naval Type' bomb. However it may have been given such an informal name among those who worked with it since part of the work in connection with its development was carried out by the Navy. This bomb was not completed as of January 1945. All of the information concerning this bomb was considered classified in January 1945 and much of it is still not considered declassifiable."

In the same signed statement appearing on Page 13 of the summary report, in the last paragraph, there appears information which Greenglass said he passed to Rosenberg relative to the atom bomb. Concerning this, the Atomic Energy Commission has advised, "With respect to the information which Greenglass says he passed to Julius Rosenberg in the fall of 1945, information of this type was classified in the fall of 1945 and is still not considered to be declassifiable."

Letter to Hon. Irving H. Saypol
NY 65-15348

On Page 13 of the summary report in the signed statement Greenglass admitted, "I furnished Julius Rosenberg with an unsealed envelope containing the information I had been able to gather concerning the atom bomb, as well as a couple of sketches of the molds which make up the atom bomb." Concerning this the Atomic Energy Commission has stated, "Sketches of the mold used in the atom bomb were classified at that time and are still 'restricted data.'"

On Page 13 in the statement, Greenglass admitted, "I also furnished Gold with information concerning the identity of a world-famous scientist who was working at Los Alamos under an assumed name and also furnished information that Oppenheimer and Kistiakowsky were working at Los Alamos." The Atomic Energy Commission has advised, "The 'Manhattan District did attempt to 'play down' the identity of the employees of Los Alamos up through the period including June, 1945, particularly the identity of the key scientific staff, and did make an effort to assure that lists of such employees would not be published. It is felt, however, that it is somewhat doubtful that the fact that Dr. Oppenheimer and Dr. Kistiakowski were employed at Los Alamos was considered by itself to be classified information by the 'Manhattan District. Dr. Bohr's association with the 'Manhattan District as of June 1945 was considered as 'secret' information." The Atomic Energy Commission furnished three pieces of correspondence which bear out their conclusion that Dr. Bohr's presence at Los Alamos was "secret." The Atomic Energy Commission is attempting to locate additional documents with respect to this matter.

On Page 13 of the summary report, with respect to the material furnished by Greenglass to Gold, Greenglass states, "I also gave him a sketch of a high explosive lens mold which was an experiment to study implosion effects on a steel tube to understand the effect it would have on uranium so that it could be determined how a critical mass could be arrived at which would not explode before detonation." With respect to this, the Atomic Energy Commission has advised, "The particular sketchappears, however, to be a description of an experimental setup rather than a description of a mold; the sketch has been further described as 'a sketch of a Koski arrangement for a form of cylindrical implosion on a steel tube,' and is still classified as 'secret.' It could possibly be described by a witness as a sketch of a high explosive lens, rather than a sketch of a high explosive lens mold.we are specifically inviting your attention to the above since we understand that Greenglass was charged in the indictment as having prepared and delivered a sketch of a 'high-explosive lens mold.'"

Letter to Hon. Irving H. Saypol
NY 65-15348

There was also forwarded to the Atomic Energy Commission a lucite disk which was found in Greenglass' apartment in New York City. Greenglass had admitted that he obtained this disk while working at Los Alamos and had claimed that it was part of the atom bomb. The Atomic Energy Commission has advised, "The lucite disk was part of an experimental model of a detonator which was being tested for use with the atom bomb. It was classified, as were all such parts. The security significance of this disk is extremely low unless it was accompanied by a detailed account of the function it fulfilled within the detonator. The disk would not now warrant any classification."

There was also forwarded to the Atomic Energy Commission the following items: One list of promotions of enlisted men, dated March 27, 1945; one mimeographed letter, dated August 8, 1945, to all members of the laboratory, from J. R. Oppenheimer; one undated, mimeographed form marked "Restricted" and signed by J. R. Oppenheimer; one letter dated August 6, 1945, to all military and civilian personnel, Manhattan District, from K. D. Nichols, Colonel, Manhattan District, Oak Ridge, Tennessee; and one copy of the cover page of the "Ordnance Soldier's Guide," marked "Restricted," and issued by Ordnance Replacement Training Center, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland. The Atomic Energy Commission has advised that it would not be a violation of the Atomic Energy Security Regulations for Greenglass to have any of the above mentioned documents in his possession. The Atomic Energy Commission also advised that in their opinion Greenglass' retention of these documents upon separation from service would not have violated Manhattan District security regulations.

The Atomic Energy Commission was also requested to advise as to whether there was any objection to the disclosure in a public trial of information regarding Greenglass' work on implosion experimentation and implosion research. The Atomic Energy Commission has pointed out that scientific and technical information of this general type is classified as "restricted data." They suggested that if the prosecution of the case required that some of this information be declassified the Commission would be glad to consider the matter further, but that they felt that it may be possible for a witness to testify to the general nature of Greenglass' work at Los Alamos without disclosure of any information now classified as "restricted data."

The Atomic Energy Commission is concerned with the problem of having made public at a trial the data of a restricted nature which Greenglass admits furnishing, much of which is still classified. They also feel that there is a problem with respect to the testimony of Atomic Energy Commission witnesses to the extent such witnesses will have to disclose classified matters at a trial.

NY 65-15348

With respect to this matter, it would be desirable to have it resolved well in advance of any trial by discussion between you and the Atomic Energy Commission representatives. I would appreciate being advised of your decision in this matter.

Very truly yours

Re: memo SA HAROLD F. GOOD, 8/8/50, re check on account of Pitt Machine Products, Inc., payable to BEACON METAL MANUFACTURING CO.

[REDACTED] Controller's Office, National City Bank,
55 Wall Street, verified that the BEACON METAL MANUFACTURING COMPANY has an account at the Flatbush Branch of that bank and from a telephone conversation with the manager of that branch obtained the following information concerning that company: BEACON first opened an account with the bank, Yorkville Branch, March, 1946, and transferred it to the Flatbush Branch 7/15/49. The company does business at 375 Kent Avenue, Brooklyn. It is a sole proprietorship headed by RUBIN GOODMAN.
It formerly was a partnership with GOODMAN and CHARLES BOZSIK, but the partnership was dissolved. The company has never borrowed from the bank.
Little is known of its credit rating as such. Its accounts averages $3,000.00. The account has been satisfactory, with nothing unfavorable known of the company or GOODMAN. The company manufactures machine protectors.

RUBIN GOODMAN, Proprietor, Beacon Metal Manufacturing Company, 375 Kent Street, residing at 55 Linden Boulevard, Brooklyn, advised that he first met ROSENBERG about two years ago and has done business with him rather regularly since then, up until the time the latter was arrested.
He said that he first heard of ROSENBERG through his former partner, CHARLES BOZSIK, who in turn heard of him as a potential customer from a heat treatment man with whom they had done business. He said that he does not recall that man's name or address, but said that BOZSIK could supply them, in all probability. GOODMAN said that he delivered work to ROSENBERG's shop the day before ROSENBERG was arrested. He said that he was very much surprised to learn of ROSENBERG's arrest, despite the fact that he knew GREENGLASS and had previously known of the latter's arrest.

ROUTED TO	FILE

Mr. GOODMAN continued essentially as follows: He and CHARLES BOZSIK first met in 1943, when they both worked for the Savoy Brass Company, Long Island City. They later met again and set up a partnership. About two years ago they broke up the partnership, and BOZSIK went to work for CITITAN MANUFACTURING COMPANY, 2310 3rd. Avenue, NYC for a while and then went to work for ROSENBERG at PITT MACHINE PRODUCTS, Inc. He is confident that BOZSIK was never in any way involved with ROSENBERG in any espionage or other unlawful activity, has discussed ROSENBERG with BOZSIK and knows that the latter was as amazed as he himself was and regards ROSENBERG as a traitor.

Mr. GOODMAN further advised as follows: He saw ROSENBERG for a total of about twenty times. He knew him only through business. The total business between them represented about $2,000.00 to $10,000.00. ROSENBERG, at one point, wanted to form a partnership with him, but he was not interested. ROSENBERG's plant lacks automatic screw machines, which he, GOODMAN, has; so, the principal business between them has been work which ROSENBERG ordered, calling for the use of automatic screw machines, and which ROSENBERG handled for his customers on a commission basis. The last payments from ROSENBERG were about two months ago and amounted to approximately $50.00, he thought. Concerning the work for ROSENBERG delivered the day before the latter's arrest, he, GOODMAN, learned that it was being done for COIL WINDERS, INC, 61 Bergen Street, Brooklyn. He got in touch with Mr. YELSEY of that company, learned that the latter was indignant and bitter toward ROSENBERG because of the espionage charge, and was delighted to make arrangements to pay GOODMAN directly for his share in the work done. He has since become a customer of GOODMAN's. Another similar account is that of the AIR DUCT INSTALLATION COMPANY, 32 East 4th. Street, who also has become a customer of GOODMAN's. The head of that company is also bitter toward ROSENBERG because of his espionage charge.

Because of the probability that COIL WINDERS and AIR DUCT have already been contacted, no effort was made by this agent to go there. The same is true for BOZSIK--CHARLES J. BOZSIK, 3015 Cadden Avenue, Bronx--for GOODMAN advised that agents came to interview BOZSIK while he was visiting ROZSIK and was discussing ROSENBERG with him. GOODMAN said that he knows of no other specific business accounts of PITT MACHINE PRODUCTS, INC.

GOODMAN said that when GREENGLASS was arrested, he called ROSENBERG, with whom he was by then on rather friendly terms, and asked him about GREENGLASS' arrest. He asked ROSENBERG, he said, whether the FBI had interviewed him. ROSENBERG said that the FBI had not seen him, but refused to talk about the case. Mr. GOODMAN said that he attributed this reluctance to the fact that GREENGLASS was ROSENBERG's brother-in-law and did not consider the possibility that ROSENBERG might also be involved. He said that neither ROSENBERG nor GREENGLASS had ever given any indication of espionage activities while he knew them. He said that he was unable to recognize any of the photographs shown him except those of ROSENBERG and GREENGLASS and that he had never met ETHEL ROSENBERG.

Reference is made to the memorandum of July 28, 1950 setting forth six firms which had mailed material to Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated, 370 East Houston Street, New York City, all of which were postmarked July 25, 1950.

The first of these firms was the M.R.M. Company, Incorporated, 191 Berry Street, Brooklyn, New York.

The Indices of the New York Office reflected that this firm sent mail to M. Broverman and Sons, 79 Wall Street, New York City, on November 19th and 20th, 1947. BROVERMAN is in the hair and bristle business [REDACTED]

HERMAN MANAS is the President of the M.R.M. Company. In his absence Mrs. HERMAN MANAS, Secretary and Treasurer of the firm, was interviewed on August 10, 1950 and advised their firm is engaged in the manufacture of bottle filling machinery. She stated that the subject's firm is a sub-contractor for the M.R.M. Company, making certain small pieces of machinery which the M.R.M. Company is unable to make itself. The M.R.M. Company has no Government contracts and does no secret work.

Mrs. MANAS went on to say that the subject started fabricating parts for the M.R.M. Company on November 10, 1948 and all work was discontinued on July 10, 1950 as a result of the newspaper publicity concerning the subject. Immediately after this Mrs. ROSENBERG telephonically contacted M.R.M. Company and asked that the small amount still owed to the Pitt Company be paid up, and this was done.

Mrs. MANAS stated that she and her husband are not acquainted socially with ROSENBERG and the only times she saw him were when he stopped in the front office for his check. She was unable to recall when ROSENBERG first started fabricating parts for the M.R.M. Company, but advised that TOM PREZIOSO, now in the Shipping Department but formerly Purchasing Agent, had secured the services of ROSENBERG.

Mrs. MANAS roughly totaled the sum of payments to ROSENBERG since November, 1948 and the total was approximately $4,050.00. A few recent bills examined by the writer reflected the following types of work:

Date	Items Described	Amount
June 22, 1950	144 check valves, #1129/1130	$203.04
June 12, 1950	2 lower disk flanges	$16.00
June 6, 1950	1 casting	$4.50
May 31, 1950	labor only (materials supplied by M.R.M.) star shaft	$20.00
May 31, 1950	reducer gear	$9.00
May 31, 1950	star gear	$24.00

All of the work was done according to the specifications furnished by the M.R.M. Company and ROSENBERG'S work was generally satisfactory and reasonable.

Mr. TOM PREZIOSO was also interviewed and advised that he first heard of the Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated through a salesman who recommended this company for the type of fabrication needed by the M.R.M. Company. PREZIOSO was unable to recall which salesman recommended the Pitt Company but stated it was not an unusual procedure since the salesmen visit all the local shops and are acquainted with the facilities and businesses of the various machine shops.

He went on to say that he handled all of ROSENBERG'S dealings with the M.R.M. Company and that ROSENBERG never gave any indication of being pro-Communist or pro-Russian and that he, PREZIOSO, did not know ROSENBERG prior to the time he was given his first fabricating job by the M.R.M. Company.

Referenced memorandum also reflects the Pitt Company received a letter from Bell Directory Publishers, Inc., 1860 Broadway, New York City.

The Indices of the New York Office contain a reference in the DUCASE indicating this firm addressed mail [REDACTED] [REDACTED] This sub-file has been destroyed and no further information is available.

Mr. MICHAEL M. BELL, Treasurer of the firm, was interviewed and advised Bell Directory Publishers, Inc. publish two industrial directories. One is the "Eastern Manufacturers and Industrial Directory" and the other is the "Mid-West Industrial Directory." These directories are distributed free to all plants, factories, Government departments and large concerns. A profit is made through the paid advertising of various concerns in the directory. The Eastern Directory is distributed to 55,000 firms.

Mr. BELL stated it is the practice of this firm to select from the yellow pages of the telephone book all types of businesses and circularize them for paid advertisements in the directory. During the latter part of July, 1950 thousands of these circulars were mailed out and undoubtedly the letter to the Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated contained such a circular, since Mr. BELL searched their files and could locate no file on the subject or his firm.

Another correspondent with the Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated was Pritt Wyckoff Potter Hamilton, Incorporated, 400 Madison Avenue, New York City, which sent the subject's firm a circular.

NY 65-15348

MEMO

The Indices of the New York Office reflect several references to this firm, which deals in real estate management and brokerage, as well as insurance. According to Dun and Bradstreet, they managed approximately 175 buildings in 1941 and collected rents from 4,000 tenants. Officers of this firm have been contacted previously regarding tenants, in major espionage cases.

Mr. WALTER C. LUSHER, Vice President and Secretary of Britt Wyckoff Potter Hamilton, Incorporated, advised their records contain no information on the subject or the Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated. However, he stated it is the policy of his firm from time to time when they have unused uptown space, to circularize various businesses in the undesirable congested downtown area, offering the tenants of these buildings more desirable uptown space. The difference in cost can often be made up through lower insurance rates, and so forth.

In the latter part of July, 1950 many hundreds of these circulars were mailed out and undoubtedly such a circular was mailed to the Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated. The businesses circularized are taken from the yellow pages of the telephone book.

Another correspondent of the Pitt Company was Metal Expeditors, 170 Broadway, New York City, who sent a postcard to the Pitt Company on July 25, 1950.

The Indices of the New York Office were negative concerning this firm.

In the absence of Mr. L. BOYD ZIMMAN, President and Manager, of this and several other firms, all operating out of this address, Mrs. JEANETTE Z. POSNER, Treasurer, was interviewed and advised that this firm deals in the purchase and sale of all types of steel, both in the domestic and foreign markets. Another firm under the same management is Tractors for Export, of which Mrs. POSNER is Treasurer.

Mrs. POSNER searched the firm records but could find no reference to the subject or the Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated.

NY 65-15348

MEMO

However, she advised that around the period of July 25, 1950, as well as before and after that date, Metal Expeditors sent out thousands of post-cards to a selected list of steel users, obtained through former mailing lists, trade journals and yellow pages of the phone book, asking if the recipients of the cards wanted to buy or sell steel. Mrs. POSNER advised that undoubtedly the mail received by the Pitt Company on July 25, 1950 was such a card.

On August 11, 1950 Mr. MAX STESSIN, President of the Lo-Man Manufacturing Company, 405-44th Street, Brooklyn, New York, was interviewed. This company also postmarked a letter to the Pitt Machine Products, Incorporated on July 25, 1950.

Mr. STESSIN advised that the Lo-Man Manufacturing Company is presently engaged almost exclusively in manufacturing parts for television sets.

Mr. STESSIN advised that about 50 parts were involved and the specifications called for anywhere from one or two to 20 parts. At the time he took the contract he figured that while this particular contract was small and involved more work than was warranted for the job, it might lead to larger orders in the future, and so he accepted the contract. He stated that in making such small quantities of these parts it would oftentimes be necessary to set up the machine tools for several days and then the few parts could be run off in a matter of a few minutes. At that time, also, his equipment was dismantled as power press machines were being installed to replace screw machines, and he recalled discussing this matter with Mr. MILTON BERLIN, of the Templet Manufacturing Company, 156 Flushing Avenue, Long Island, New York, who recommended the Pitt Company for the manufacture of these parts, as they had done similar work for Templet Manufacturing Company in a satisfactory manner.

According to STESSIN, he telephoned JULIUS ROSENBERG who assured him that he had the necessary equipment to handle the job.

Thereafter, ROSENBERG visited the Lo-Man Manufacturing Company and got the blueprints. ROSENBERG paid one more visit to the Lo-Man Company thereafter. In each instance he dealt directly with Mr. STESSIN and all the conversations dealt strictly with the business on hand.

NY 65-15348

MEMO

The contract was dated April 23, 1950 and called for approximately 50 different parts. The total cost of the work was estimated at approximately $1,070.00.

As stated above, the Pitt Company was only to make lathe parts and STESSIN, himself, did not know for what purpose these parts were ultimately to be used. A few samples of the parts were posts, pivots, pushings, spacers, sleeves, etc.

The last of the order was finished last week. At the present time Lo-Man still owes the Pitt Company approximately $100.00 for the last of the parts but since ROSENBERG apparently made duplicates of one part STESSIN is holding up payment of the $100.00 pending settlement of this matter.

STESSIN further advised the parts were well made and the price was reasonable. In addition, ROSENBERG had told him he was also engaged in work for the United States Air Corps.

Investigation conducted by SA F. X. O'DONNELL reveals that there is no such listing as Monroe 3051, but that Monroe 3-3051 is listed to Kozy Korners, Monroe, New York.

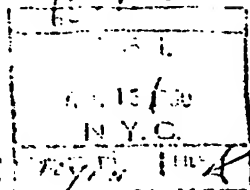

Resident agent covering Monroe, New York should conduct appropriate investigation to determine the reputation of the management of Kozy Korners Boarding House, and if it is determined to be advisable should conduct appropriate investigation to determine the connection of ROSENBERG with this establishment.

Reference of SA HAROLD F. GOOD, NYC, 8/8/50, recommending interview with SOLOMON H. BAUCH, holder in escrow of stock in Pitt Machine Product, Inc. for ROSENBERG, who was buying same, after identifying BAUCH through the Hellesic Bank Trust Company and learning something of his background at such bank.

[REDACTED] Hellesic Bank Trust Company, 127 155 William Street, NYC, advised that SOLOMON H. BAUCH opened a small special checking account in 1939, giving his business as that of lawyer at 45 John Street and his residence at 1665 Andrews Avenue, Bronx. Because of the nature of the account no credit information or other background data concerning BAUCH was available, [REDACTED] said.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

SOLOMON H. BAUCH, Attorney, 45 John Street, Telephone BR 3-1798, advised that he was expecting a visit from the FBI, having talked on the phone the day before, 8/14/50, with BAUCH, ROSENBERG's defense attorney and got from him the impression that papers in his possession concerning ROSENBERG were about to be subpoenaed. It is noted that Mr. BAUCH requested that if such papers are to be subpoenaed that it be done before Friday evening, 8/15/50, or after 8/18/50, as in the interim he plans to be out of the city on vacation. He indicated that he would be glad to have the documents subpoenaed, as it would give him an opportunity to appear before the court and request that he be released from his obligations as escrowee. He said that he did not want to have anything to do with ROSENBERG or his company, now that he has learned of the espionage charge.

ROUTED TO	FILE

Mr. BAUCH stated that he had represented ROSENBERG, not SCHEIN, in the purchase by XXXXXXXXXXXX of ROSENBERG of the other's interest in PITT MACHINE PRODUCTS, INC. When he mentioned this, the agent stated that he had no intention of infringing on or interfering with Mr. BAUCH's relationship with his client or of ROSENBERG's privileged communication with him. Mr. BAUCH said that he did not believe that anything concerning the transaction was privileged; that he had discussed that question on the phone with BLOCH, ROSENBERG's present attorney; and that BLOCH, who seemed to have looked into the question, to some extent, at least, did not believe that anything concerning the stock purchase was privileged. He said that he would be glad to co-operate in any way that he could. The agent assured him that his confidence would be respected.

Mr. BAUCH at one point started to mention the date, "June 6th." and then stopped, saying that perhaps that information was privileged. He later, probably referring to the same matter, said that on June 6, 1950 BERNARD GREENGLASS had been made a Vice President in the Pitt Machine Products, Inc. and was certified as competent to sign company checks, "because ROSENBERG and his wife were contemplating a trip." He did not further elaborate, and the agent did not feel that it was politic to press him on the point.

Mr. BAUCH further stated essentially as follows: He first met ROSENBERG and GREENGLASS through HARRY PLITMAN, President of the APISTOCRAT WHIFFER CORPORATION, formerly on Grand Street, but recently burned down. PLITMAN has been a client of his for years, off and on, and recommended him to ROSENBERG and GREENGLASS, with whom he has also done business for several years. Since then, ROSENBERG came to him for advice on a certain matter. Thereafter, they came in on several occasions, (ROSENBERG, BERNARD GREENGLASS and DAVID GREENGLASS) in connection with ROSENBERG's contract to purchase the interest in the corporation from SCHEIN.

Mr. BAUCH further advised essentially as follows: Documents available to him indicate that the two GREENGLASS and ROSENBERG were formerly in business as the "G. & R. ENGINEERING COMPANY", a partnership. Thereafter, when in financial troubles, SCHEIN was brought into the business and provided $15,000.00 as his interest and to help put the company back on its feet financially. He, ROSENBERG, DAVID GREENGLASS, and BERNARD GREENGLASS each received twenty-five shares of common stock in the corporation then organized as the Pitt Machine Products, Inc. In addition, SCHEIN received 150 shares of preferred stock. This was 1947.

Mr. BAUCH further indicated: The GREENGLASS brothers later on stepped out of the picture, with ROSENBERG having taken over their interests. BAUCH negotiated with SCHEIN on ROSENBERG's behalf to get SCHEIN out of the organization and leave ROSENBERG alone as a sole proprietor. By contract dated August 1, 1950, it was agreed that ROSENBERG would pay SCHEIN $5,500.00 for his interest in the company. ROSENBERG paid SCHEIN $1,000.00 at the time the contract was closed, 8/1/50, and agreed to pay $160.00 per month, starting 5/15/50, until the total was paid. No amount in interest was provided for. The subsequent payments were to be on the fifteenth of each month. SCHEIN thereupon endorsed the stock certificates covering his stock in favor of ROSENBERG. ROSENBERG also endorsed the stock in blank. BAUCH signed the agreement as witness and was to hold the stock in escrow until the full amount was collected. No mortgage was provided for.

Mr. BAUCH advised that he was very much surprised to learn of ROSENBERG's arrest; that he had never discussed politics with him; that ROSENBERG had never done anything to indicate espionage activities; and that had ROSENBERG asked him to give him a letter of reference the day before, he would gladly have done so. ~~XXX~~ All his impressions of ROSENBERG were favorable, he said, except that he did not know that ROSENBERG was an engineer and had regarded him as a rather simple, hard-working "schmoe".

Mr. BAUCH further stated that he had never seen Mrs. ROSENBERG, but that she had called him the day before her arrest for advice as to whether she should make the monthly payment due August 15, 1950, especially as she was negotiating to sell the company. He said that he advised her to make the payment and then attempt to reach an agreement with SCHEIN that would liberate the stock from escrow and permit the sale of the company if a satisfactory buyer were found. He said that her arrest apparently prevented that payment, for SCHEIN's attorney called--HARRY ZUCKER, 15 Court Street, Brooklyn--to ask that the stock be turned over to SCHEIN when the five days of default elapsed, as provided for in the contract. Mr. BAUCH said that he had taken the position that he would not want to take the responsibility of turning over the stock under the circumstances, even when the default period had elapsed, because of the doctrine of impossibility--the jailing of ETHEL ROSENBERG having made it impossible for her to comply with the terms of the contract.

A previous appointment which Mr. BAUCH had made prevented the clarification of certain points raised in the interview--such as the date of his first contact with ROSENBERG; the nature of his business with him on that occasion; PLETMAN's telephone number, which he said he had, even though he did not have his current address; and any information he might have as to possible purchasers of the ~~XXXXXX~~ PITT MACHINE PRODUCTS, Inc.

Mr. BAUCH advised that it is his impression that DAVID SCHEIN has had no connection with ROSENBERG and DAVID GREENGLASS except the legitimate business contact and that he is a responsible, reliable, and highly religious man.

RE: JULIUS ROSENBERG
ESPIONAGE-R

In connection with a statement made by DAVID GREENGLASS to the effect that JULIUS ROSENBERG took a proximity fuse out of the Emerson Corporation and that the invention was highly secret at that time, BENJAMIN YELSKY, who was formerly Resident Inspector in Charge of the Newark Signal Corps Inspection Agency, was interviewed by SA ROBERT L. STEVENSON, JR. and the writer on August 8, 1950.

At the outset of the interview YELSKY stated that he had to be very careful with his answers in that he did not want to be involved in any way. He stated that he graduated from the College of the City of New York in 1937 and added that he did not know whether he knew ROSENBERG at that time. He volunteered to furnish the names of some of the people he did know while he attended CCNY in order that they could be contacted to determine whether he was acquainted with ROSENBERG at that institution. YELSKY later stated that he believed he first met ROSENBERG while both were U. S. Signal Corps employees at Jefferson-Travis Radio Company, New York City, but his answer was evasive and he indicated he could not be sure of this.

It will further be noted that at the outset of the interview YELSKY voluntarily stated that he had never been a member of any political clubs or organizations while at City College. YELSKY further stated that he desired to answer the questions in such a way that he would not be able to be quoted on them.

YELSKY stated that he could not recall the specific duties of ROSENBERG while they were employed at Emerson. During the interview he ridiculed ROSENBERG and stated that ROSENBERG was incompetent and a misfit. He further stated that he could not recall being responsible for the assignment of ROSENBERG to any specific duty at Emerson and indicated that if he did assign ROSENBERG to any duties they were not of a responsible nature.

YELSKY further stated that the Coil Winders Corporation with which he is connected has had an occasional contract with the Pitt Machine Products Incorporated, which organization ROSENBERG is President of. YELSKY stated that he gave ROSENBERG this business because of the fact that he continually pestered him for these contracts.

He indicated he was not socially acquainted with ROSENBERG and could furnish no information regarding his activities, political or otherwise. YELSKY stated he was not Signal Corps Inspector in Charge at Emerson but more or less U.S. Signal Corps Coordinator of Activities at Emerson.

N. Y. C.

Regarding the plans and specifications pertaining to the proximity fuse YELSKY stated that he himself has never seen the specifications of the complete fuse and indicated that if such plans were not available to him they would not be available to ROSENBERG. YELSKY made it clear that plans of the individual parts of the fuse existed, however, he reiterated that to his recollection he never saw specifications of the complete fuse.

In reference to the security measures taken by Emerson Radio Corporation YELSKY stated they were strictly enforced, however, it was his experience that such measures were not 100% effective. He advised the completely assembled proximity fuses were closely guarded and an accounting system was maintained relative to these fuses and in the event a complete fuse was removed from the proximity fuse production area it would probably be noticed. He did state, however, that it would be a sneaky matter to remove individual parts of the fuse from the area and assemble the parts outside of the plant. He indicated that no accounting system was kept regarding the individual parts of the fuse before it was assembled.

It is to be noted that in connection with ROSENBERG's employment with the Emerson Radio Corporation from February 2, 1945 to December 7, 1945 he furnished as an employment reference BENJAMIN YELSKY. In this regard YELSKY was asked whether he was ever used as an employment reference for ROSENBERG and he stated that to the best of his recollection he has never been used by ROSENBERG as a reference.

It is to be further noted that during this interview YELSKY referred to the proximity fuse as the CPQ project.

YELSKY also advised that specifications pertaining to the proximity fuse were kept in a locked cabinet and if any information pertaining to the fuse were removed from the Emerson Corporation it would almost necessarily have to be the fuse itself or parts thereof.

YELSKY reiterated that he could not remember the duties of ROSENBERG as a Signal Corps employee at Emerson and made it clear that he was not closely associated with ROSENBERG. During the interview YELSKY furnished only evasive answers.

Mr. MAURICE L. LEVY, Director of Special Engineering, Teletone Radio Corporation, 540 West 58th Street, New York City, stated that during the time of ROSENBERG's employment in 1945 his (LEVY's) position was Chief Engineer of Special Production and as such he was supervisor over ROSENBERG. He stated that ROSENBERG had absolutely nothing to do with the proximity fuse during his private employment with Emerson in 1945. Regarding ROSENBERG's specific duties during this employment LEVY stated that ROSENBERG was a design and development engineer on a commercial radio which he indicated to be a four band shortwave set.

Mr. LEVY advised that ROSENBERG, as a civilian employee of Emerson, had access to any classified projects which may have been conducted at Emerson at that time. ROSENBERG was discharged from the Emerson Radio Corporation due to a reduction in personnel.

Mr. LEVY was asked by the interviewing Agents to furnish the names of persons who appeared to be close contacts of ROSENBERG while he was in the employ of the U.S. Signal Corps at Emerson. Mr. LEVY stated that ROSENBERG was always friendly and very close to one BEJAMIN YELSKY and added that they were frequently seen together. He stated that both ROSENBERG and YELSKY had pretty much the same responsibilities -- one as senior and one as junior. He stated that he could not think of anyone else ROSENBERG was friendly with at that time and described ROSENBERG as being competent in that he knew radio and could carry a job through.

Reference is made to the memo of Special Agent James P. Lee wherein it is reflected that among the items located in the apartment of Julius Rosenberg on 7-17-50 was the telephone number CR5-5400 and that this number is listed to the Jewish Board of Guardians, 228 East 19th Street, New York City.

The indices of the New York Office disclose the following references to the Jewish Board of Guardians:

62-3119-2059.

This reference is a source of information file which has been destroyed.

[REDACTED]

At the Jewish Board of Guardians, 228 East 19th Street, New York City, Mr. B. J. Black, Assistant Executive Director was interviewed. Mr. Black explained that the Board of Guardians operates five (5) Child Guidance Clinics in and about New York City and that these clinics, staffed by Psychiatrist, Psychologists and Social Workers, deal principally with the treatment of serious emotional problems of children. Mr. Black said that he could only advise that Mrs. Julius Rosenberg came to the Board of Guardians in November, 1948 and requested assistance in dealing with the emotional problems of her oldest son Michael. At that time, Mr. Black said, Mrs. Rosenberg indicated that the only source of family income was her husbands business, The Pitt Machine Products Company, and that at that time no profit was being realized from the business. For this reason, he advised, the determination of a fee to be charged was postponed until a later date. Mr. Black said that he did not know Mrs. Rosenberg or the subject personally and referred the writer to Mrs. Betty Phillips, a case worker, for additional information.

Mrs. Phillips advised that she was assigned to handle the problems of Michael Rosenberg and that she spent the period from November, 1948 until July, 1949 familiarizing herself with Michaels condition and all factors that influenced his development. In July of 1949 the case was referred to the Jewish Child Care Association for a determination as to whether or not Michael should be placed in a foster home. In November of 1949, following their study, it was decided that Michael should be treated at the Board of Guardians and the placement plans were abandoned.

In March of 1950, Mrs. Phillips advised, the JBG started seeing Michael regularly, on a weekly basis, during which time Mrs. Rosenberg was seen twice a month. The visits and conversation were about Michael; his development, what was going on in the home at that time eg. eating difficulties, sleeping, temper tantrums etc. Mrs. Phillips advised that in May or June, 1950, the JBG, in addition to seeing Michael once a week, began seeing Mrs. Rosenberg on a weekly basis also to facilitate their handling of the problems involved. The Board continued seeing Mrs. Rosenberg and Michael on this weekly basis until the week ending August 12th, 1950. Mrs. Phillips said that the Board was aware of the arrest of Michaels father, Julius, on July 17, 1950 and of Mrs. Rosenberg on August 11, 1950. She said that Mrs. Rosenberg, when seen following her husbands arrest, was upset as to what the arrest was going to do to Michael but said nothing about her husband. Mrs. Phillips advised that she visited Mrs. Rosenberg in jail on the morning of August 16, 1950 to learn what her desires were with regard to the welfare of Michael. She said that Mrs. Rosenberg now feels that as a permanent plan Michael should be placed in a foster home but that the present plan is to have the boy stay with his grandmother and and have a homemaker from the Jewish Family Service help the grandfather care for him.

Mrs. Phillips stated that she has never seen Mr. Rosenberg and that she has only briefly met Michael's maternal grandmother. She said that the discussions at the Board of Guardians have concerned only Michael and his adjustment problems and that other personal affairs of the family have never entered into any of these discussions. Consequently, she said, she could furnish no information that would be of assistance with regard to the charges placed against the Rosenbergs.

Mrs. MARGARET L. JOHNSON, Gardner Publications, Inc., 242 Madison Avenue, NYC, advised that no reference to ROSENBERG, DAVID or HENRIETTA GREENGLASS, or to PITT MACHINE PRODUCTS, INC., could be found in mailing lists or office files in New York of the company, but that an out-dated mailing list dated June, 1948 does contain the name "G. & R. Engineering Company, 370 East Houston", which means, she said, that the company was apparently receiving the publication "Modern Machine Shop", a free publication sent to various heads or executives of that type of business. She said that she can tell from the list and from examination of the files that no contact was had with that organization since 1947 and that no further information was to be had. She said that there are no reports on the company and no correspondence in the files.

Re: JULIUS ROSENBERG
ESPIONAGE--R
New York File 65-15348

The following investigations were conducted on July 27, 1950:

THOMAS H. VOIT (Salem Manufacturing Corporation, 442 Broome St., New York City, advised that the subject placed two orders with him over the phone for brass studs, one for $7.50 on July 20, 1949 and one for $15.00 on Feb. 14, 1950. VOIT added that the above was the only contact he ever had with the subject.

AL LEBENSFELD of DAVID LEBENSFELD, INC., Commercial Equipment and Supplies, with warehouse located at 198 Bowery St., New York City, related that he was introduced to the subject by FRANK GOLDSTEIN of the SMITH WELDING CORP., 210-212 E. 2nd St., New York City, now defunct. AL LEBENSFELD continued that FRANK GOLDSTEIN was currently in his employ. He added that GOLDSTEIN introduced the subject as a jig manufacturer during the latter part of June, 1950. AL LEBENSFELD added that he could come to no terms with the subject with regards to prices, and thereupon terminated his association with the subject. AL LEBENSFELD disclosed that his brother DAVID had no contact whatsoever with the subject, and that the subject was unknown to him.

FRANK GOLDSTEIN advised that he did soldering work for the subject at his shop, the SMITH WELDING CORP., 210-212 E. 2nd St., New York City, and that the subject did jig work for him during the past three years. GOLDSTEIN related that the subject did much machine work for the N.E.M. Experimental Co., Berry and North 9th St., Brooklyn, N.Y. GOLDSTEIN related that he knew DAVID GREENGLASS as the subject's partner. GOLDSTEIN revealed that his contact with the subject and GREENGLASS was strictly limited to business.

(HARRY SOLL, Central Sand Blasting Service, 111 Chrystie St., New York City advised that he did not recall the subject specifically as a business contact of his. He continued that he may have at one time or another done some work for the subject, or that the subject may have sought prices from him.

(Miss JANE O'BRIEN, bookkeeper at BIGI CO., INC., 285 Madison Ave., New York City (ZXXXXXXXX) advised that the above firm has been in the process of liquidation since March, 1948. She continued that.

(H. ALEXANDER STRAUS terminated his services with the above firm in November of 1947, and that his current address is HANS ALEXANDER STRAUS, GA-JO-EN-KANKO-HANTEI, MEGURO, TOKYO, JAPAN. Miss O'BRIEN stated that she was unacquainted with the subject. She remarked that she has been employed by the above firm for the past two years.

(Investigation conducted at 255 Fifth Ave., New York City divulged that SIM RO-S was no longer in business at that address. A telephone call placed to his residence at 222 E. 35th St., New York City (telephone No. MU 6-1129), disclosed that MR. RO-S is presently on a business trip in the Mid-west and will not return until next week to New York City.

(ARTHUR M. WORMSER of the Bloch-Wormser Co., 60 E. 42nd St., New York City, advised that the subject had been recommended to him by the Munton Manufacturing Co., 43 Vesey St., New York City, during the latter part of 1949, and that he had requested a quotation from the subject on bits and braces which the subject was at that time manufacturing. MORMSEP added that he never placed the order with the subject. He stated that he saw the subject intermittently at the above-mentioned Munston firm.

The following investigations were conducted on July 28, 1950:

JACK J. KAHGAN, 40 Exchange Place, New York City, advised that he first met the subject at City College where both were undertaking engineering courses. He stated that the subject was one year ahead of him in school and graduated in 1939. He continued that he served with the subject in the NEWARK SIGNAL CORP. INSPECTION ZONE, Newark, New Jersey during the war, and that his contact with the subject was limited strictly to business matters. KAHGAN related that he met the subject in 1946 at the Radio Receptor Co., 84 North 9th St., Brooklyn, New York, where the subject requested KAHGAN to recommend him to the Purchasing Department of the afore-mentioned firm where he hoped to obtain orders for machine work. KAHGAN added that during that same period of time he also saw the subject at Coil Winders, Inc., 61 Bergen St., Brooklyn, New York, for which firm the subject was then doing work. When a photograph of MORRIS SOBEL was displayed to KAHGAN, he stated that he was pretty certain that SOBEL was employed as an engineer by the Feeves Instrument Corp., 217 E. 91st St., New York City.

HAROLD LEVINSON, 601 W. 26th St., New York City, advised that he was introduced to the subject by Maurice MOLEIN less than a year ago. He continued that he visited the subject at his place of business, about three or four times seeking quotations on machine jobs, but that the subject always wanted too much money. LEVINSON related that he sold the subject about 200 lbs. of scrap steel some time in October of 1949. LEVINSON added that the subject advised him that he was doing work on contracts which he had received from the Bell Telephone Co., Western Electric and the U. S. Government. LEVINSON disclosed that on one of his visits to the subject's place of business, he saw the subject write out his own personal check for the rent and heard him remark that he did so as a cover up for his partner ^{whose} ~~whole~~ identity as a partner he wanted to keep secret.

Sewing Supplies, Inc.,
JERRY FRIEDMAN, 135 W. 25th St., New York City, formerly located at 470 Ninth Ave., New York City, disclosed that the subject called on him intermittently from 1948 to 1949 seeking orders for the manufacture of sewing machine parts. FRIEDMAN stated that he never placed an order with the subject. He added that the subject on one occasion told him that he, the subject, was doing precision work for some airplane company, the name of which FRIEDMAN could not recall.

Re: JULIUS ROSENBERG;

On July 28, 1950, Mr. CHARLES SCHWALB of the SPIRO MACHINE TOOL COMPANY, 239 Centre Street, telephone No. Canal 6-2259, home address, 1760 Andrews Avenue, Bronx, New York, home phone TR 8-7649, advised that he recognized JULIUS ROSENBERG and has not seen ROSENBERG in a business way since 1944 or 1945. SCHWALB stated that the G & R ENGINEERING COMPANY advertised some South Bend lathes for sale and that he inspected these lathes and paid $180 each for them in order that he might have the lathes on hand to attract customers. SCHWALB stated that about 6 months or possibly a year later, G & R ENGINEERING COMPANY called him to advise that they had an O.G. BROWN & SHARPE machine for sale. SCHWALB inspected this machine and agreed to purchase it. His records reflect that this machine was purchased on January 11, 1947 for the sum of $2,850. At the time that he bought this machine, SCHWALB stated, ROSENBERG told him that they had other machines around the corner from the Second Street address on Houston Street. SCHWALB states that he was taken to this other shop by ROSENBERG to inspect a Morey Turret lathe and that he was advised that G & R maintained these machines in this shop due to lack of room in their own shop.

SCHWALB recalled that he asked ROSENBERG if this particular machine was owned by the G & R ENGINEERING COMPANY or by the owner of this other shop and he was advised that the owner of the other shop just kept it for the G & R COMPANY and was doing some work on these machines. SCHWALB identified the photo of JULIE SIDORAVITCH as very closely resembling the owner of this other shop. SCHWALB described SIDORAVITCH and the description fits that given the writer.

SCHWALB stated that this other shop was located on the street floor on the south side of Houston Street between Avenue D and Cannon Street, right near Fire Engine Company #11. SCHWALB recalled that this store had about two steps going up to the entrance. Mr. SCHWALB stated that he would be very glad to accompany agents to Houston Street to endeavor to point out the location of this other shop. He suggested that any agent contacting him at home or at the shop mention the writer's name so that he will know it is a bonafide.

Mr. NATHAN HOROWITZ advised that he and SARON RADLOW have been partners in the R & R UPHOLSTERY & DECORATING COMPANY, 185 Monroe Street, since January of 1946. He stated that he did not know JULIUS ROSENBERG and was not familiar with the names of the companies with which ROSENBERG was associated. HOROWITZ was unable to identify any of the photographs exhibited to him and stated that his business cards are given out to a great number of people in an endeavor to obtain business.

Mr. ARTHUR W. O'LEARY owner of the MILLING CUTTER & GRINDING SERVICE, 135 Grand Street, Cortlandt 7-6782, home address 2 Horatio Street, phone, Chelsea 3-0926, advised that he does precision work for most of the machine shops in the metropolitan area. Mr. O'LEARY recognized the pictures of DAVID GREENGLASS and JULIUS ROSENBERG as two individuals who have been to his place of business to have work done. It was his recollection that GREENGLASS had some discussion with him concerning the candle business.

Mr. GOLDIN BERGER, Vice President of BETER PATTERN & CASTING COMPANY 230 Canal Street, New York City, home residence 280 First Avenue, advised that he did not know JULIUS ROSENBERG. He checked the records of his firm and could find nothing on the books for the R & R ENGINEERING COMPANY, the BEEB MACHINE PRODUCTS CORP. or JULIUS ROSENBERG. Mr. BERGER was unable to identify any of the pictures exhibited to him. Mr. BERGER suggested that the pictures be exhibited to Miss IRVING FRANK, Secretary, who has been with the company for 5 years and who will return from her annual vacation on August 7th. He stated that Miss FRANK has an excellent memory for faces and names.

At 6264 Columbia Street, inquiries reflected that CHARLES WEISS had been engaged in sheet metal work.

~~Investigation of the address of the firm which was located at the corner of Grand Street and Bowery.~~
Inquiries there were negative concerning CHARLES WEISS.

At 58 Warren Street, the elevator operator and superintendent stated that the NORTH AMERICAN RADIO SERVICE COMPANY was not located in that building and had no idea where it may have moved to. The telephone directories were negative as to the NORTH AMERICAN RADIO SERVICE COMPANY.

At 60 Columbia Street, investigation reflected that the entire building is operated by a sporting goods company and has been so occupied for some time. No one on the premises was able to advise where PRECISION HOKING COMPANY may have moved and suggestion was offered that it was out of business. A check of the phone books was negative concerning the PRECISION HOKING COMPANY.

Memo
NY 65-15348

At 277 Broadway, the BRADWAY-CHANDLER SHIPPING SERVICE, Room 308, stated that the O'DRIS MACHINE COMPANY had moved more than 3 years ago to the Bronx and it was their understanding that the company had removed from the Bronx and had gone out of business. A check of the Bronx telephone directory was negative.

It is suggested that agents familiar with the facts of this case contact Mr. CHARLES SCHWAB for any further information that may be desired. concerning SCHWAB's business dealings with ROSENBERG and the G & R ENGINEERING COMPANY, particularly with reference to the other machine shop in which G & R stored additional machines. just as ever

It is suggested that an agent recontact the BITTER PATTERN & CASTING COMPANY, 230 Canal Street, if it is deemed advisable to have the receptionist RHODA FRANK, view the photographs on her return from vacation.

CARL W. GRUNING advised that he is a salesman and contact man for the Templet Manufacturing Corporation and that he has been with that company since about April, 1940. He stated that he met ROSENBERG through the normal course of business and that he has known him for about eight months. GRUNING advised that he has no other knowledge concerning ROSENBERG and he failed to identify photographs of any of the known associates of ROSENBERG. GRUNING stated that it was his knowledge that ROSENBERG had done business with the Templet Manufacturing Corporation long before he had come to work for that company.

Mr. WILTON PERLIN, Vice President, Templet Manufacturing Corporation, advised that he has known ROSENBERG for about two years. He stated that he has done a great deal of work for ROSENBERG, mostly metal stamping. He also stated that ROSENBERG has done some work for him. PERLIN advised that through his long association with ROSENBERG he had become friendly with him and that he and his wife had called on the ROSENBERGS socially.

PERLIN stated that ROSENBERG'S wife had called on him on July 26th but stated that her call was in reference to work which he is presently doing for ROSENBERG.

PERLIN advised that he met ROSENBERG'S doctor, JACK ZAPOLSKI (ph.) who does business as the A-1 Metal Spinning Company located at 71 Sheriff Street, New York City. ZAPOLSKI is supposed to have known ROSENBERG for a long time.

It is suggested that PERLIN be reinterviewed and ZAPOLSKI be interviewed if such has not already been done.

RE: JULIUS ROSENBERG
ESPIONAGE R
65-15348

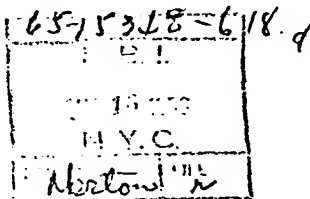

Reference 7/21/50 of SA JAMES P. LEE listing business cards found among Subject's belongings at time of his arrest, of which the following were interviewed with the results set forth:

KEYSTONE PLATING AND RUST PROOFING COMPANY:
645 11th. Avenue.

LOUIS WEISBROT, Office Manager, said that the names and photographs of Subject, GREENGLASS, and their alleged associates were all unfamiliar to him and that the name PITT MACHING PRODUCTS CORPORATION was not to be found in the records. He did find, however, a ledger entry dated October 22 and 23, 1946 for $22.50 under the name "G & R ENGINEERING COMPANY", 300 E. 2nd. Street. Further details concerning the transaction were lacking, but the work was done by Keystone for G & R.

FREDERICK HERBERT LOHMANN, formerly sales manager, now salesman, advised that ROSENBERG's face was vaguely familiar to him, but that he recalled no transactions and knows nothing about him. None of the other photos was familiar to him, he said.

KURT SCHIFMAN, Assistant Shop Foreman, advised that the company and individual names and all the photos were unfamiliar to him.

AMALGAMATED SEWING MACHING COMPANY:

125 West 25th. Street, NYC

MARTIN FRIEDMAN, Manager, and LOUIS STEIN, salesman and partner of MARTIN LEVIN, advised that their records contain no reference to Pitt or other known company names or to Subject and his associates and that all photos are unknown to them. MARTIN LEVIN is in bed with a severe heart attack and is not expected to be able to receive visitors for about a week.

UNDEVELOPED LEAD: Will interview MARTIN LEVIN, 1543 48th. Street, Brooklyn, Tel. GEdny 6-1777, on or after August 7, 1950, when he is expected to be well enough for the purpose.

KRISLOFF - SCHIFF SEWING MACHINE COMPANY:

147 West 25th. Street, NYC

ABE KRISLOFF, Partner, advised that Subject, his company names, and his associates are unknown to him and that, so far as he knows, he has had no business dealings of any kind with any of them. He said that for a period of about ten years, until perhaps five years ago, he did have business with B. GREENGLASS, father of DAVID GREENGLASS. B. GREENGLASS bought machines from him occasionally for his sewing machine sales and repair shop at 64 Sheriff Street. In connection with those dealings he said that he believes he has seen DAVID GREENGLASS' mother on one or two occasions, but never DAVID himself so far as he knows. Without knowing specifically, he said that he believes B. GREENGLASS is dead, for he was a very old man and stopped coming into his place of business. He said that he knows nothing of DAVID GREENGLASS and that his impressions of the father were always entirely favorable.

JACOB GOLDFARB AND COMPANY:

109 West 26th. Street, NYC.

SAMUEL MANDELL, Salesman, advised that he knew E. GREENGLASS as a frequent customer for sewing machine parts over a period of twenty-five years until his death about two years ago. He said that he never saw the son, DAVID GREENGLASS, but knew that he was in the machine shop business and that he manufactured sewing machine parts. One of the latter's customers was supposed to be the Superior Belting Company of Brooklyn, but he said that he knows of no other specific business connection of DAVID GREENGLASS. He said that he had always been surprised that DAVID GREENGLASS never attempted to manufacture and sell parts to Goldfarb, especially as his father had been a customer for so many years, but is sure that no such attempt was ever made. GREENGLASS' father was always a reputable businessman, he said.

Mr. MANDELL said that his company had no dealings with Pitt or G & R having previously seen and that except for the newspaper photos of Subject and Greenglass, none of the photos was familiar to him.

CONSOLIDATED SEWING MACHINE COMPANY:

1115 Broadway, NYC.

SAMUEL REDLICH, President, MEYER REDLICH, his son; PAUL SCHULDER, parts department; and JOSEPH SCHULDER, sales department, advised that BARNEY GREENGLASS and his business on Columbia Street with his brother and thereafter alone at 64 Sheriff Street were well known to them as customers for a period of twenty-five years, until BARNEY GREENGLASS died recently. SAMUEL REDLICH recalled that he had attended the party held at the time DAVID GREENGLASS was born, but that he could recall no other contact with the latter. Subject and his companies never did business with Consolidated, the four men above-named stated, but PAUL SCHULDER and MEYER REDLICH said that ROSENBERG's photograph was familiar to them and that they recalled that in about 1946 he approached them and offered to manufacture the under-blades of cutting machines for them, at a time when such blades were very difficult to obtain. The offer was never accepted and no similar business was later attempted. No further contact was had, they said, with ROSENBERG, GREENGLASS, or their business. The four men said that none of the other photos seemed at all familiar to them.

B. WEITZMAN AND COMPANY:

1326 38th. Street, Brooklyn, Tel. UL 4-1502.

BENJAMIN WEITZMAN, owner, and his son, HARRY WEITZMAN, advised that none of the photographs was familiar to them; that the known names of the Subject's businesses are unfamiliar to them and could not be found in any available records; and that, so far as is known, no contact of any kind was ever had with Subject, GREENGLASS, the latter's father, or any of their known associates. Both men pointed out that they would have no occasion to deal with a machine shop or to purchase or handle parts, inasmuch as their business is carpentry and primarily the manufacture of sewing machine table tops. They said that it was more probable that if any business was transacted with anyone associated with Subject or GREENGLASS it would have been with the father, who would have handled such table tops in his type of business. Both men further said that they had been in business at 29 West 26th. Street from 1936 until they moved to their present address in March, 1947.

SOMMER AND FUCHS SEWING MACHINE COMPANY:

555 8th. Avenue, NYC.

(MAX SOMMER, owner, advised that he knew BARNEY GREENGLASS at 64 Sheriff Street and recalled when the latter was in business with his brother as GREENGLASS & GREENGLASS on Attorney Street in the same block—between Grand and Breese Streets—before that. BARNEY GREENGLASS was a customer of his for many years until his death and always enjoyed an excellent reputation. Mr. SOMMER said that so far as he knew he never had any contact of any kind with DAVID GREENGLASS, with ROSENBERG, with Pitt or R & G and said that none of the photographs was familiar to him.

Mr. SOMMER pointed out, however, that he had on one occasion bought cloth drills from a sort of fly-by-night machine shop under circumstances that suggested the possibility of identity between Subject's business and the drill manufacturer. Later information revealed that this manufacturer labeled the machines differently/^{to}each of his customers; that his company name changed frequently; that his place of business shifted frequently and sometimes turned out to be a fictitious address. He suggested contact with SAM KLAPPER, who also sells various machines for the garment industry and who had more extensive dealings with the firm he had in mind.

(SAM KLAPPER, 152 West 26th. Street, advised that the person SOMMER had in mind was named SIGMUND and that he and none of his associates bore any resemblance to ROSENBERG, GREENGLASS, or their associates, none of whom was familiar to him, he said.

ZUCKERMAN PERLOW CORPORATION:

237 West 35th. Street, NYC.

ROBERT ZUCKERMAN and SAMUEL ZUCKERMAN, his brother, owners, advised that Pitt, R & G, or G. & R, ROSENBERG, GREENGLASS, and all the photographs are unknown to them and that there has never been any contact of any kind with Zuckerman Perlow Corporation so far as they know. They pointed out that there is no Perlow connected with the business and has not been for many years and that the two of them would know all there is to know about the business and its contacts.

PENNA FIT SHOULDER PAD COMPANY:

215 West 40th. Street, NYC.

BERT MECHEU, President, WALTER RIEDLER, partner, and LEO RIEDLER, partner, advised that their records contain no reference to Pitt or G & R or R & G; that none of the photos is familiar to them; and that so far as they know there has been no contact of any kind with Subject or any of his associates. They recalled, however, that they had at one time bought machine hooks from a G & R Sewing Machine Company which for years had been on 25th. Street next to Finkelstein's, but recalled none in that connection who resembled Subject or his associates.

No such R & G Sewing Machine Company could be found in the telephone directory, but the Finkelstein Cutting Machine Company is located at 45 West 25th. Street, NYC.

AHLERS PATTERN WORKS:

419 West 31st. Street, NYC.

HENRY G. AHLERS, owner, and his associates, WALTER BLUME, and BERNARD KEINSIN, advised that none of the photos is familiar to them; that Subject and his partner and their business styles are unknown to them by name; that no record could be found of any transaction with Subject or his companies; and that no contact of any kind with Subject or his associates could be recalled.

MEMO:

Re: DAVID EASTON
1203 Atlantic Avenue
Brooklyn, New York

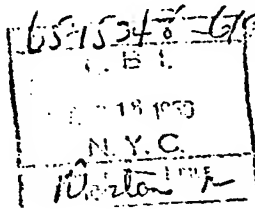

DAVID EASTON was interviewed at his place of business located at 1203 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, where he owns and operates the Premier Welding Company. He stated that he is also an attorney at law with offices at 271 Madison Avenue, New York 16, New York, phone number Lexington 2-2700.

EASTON immediately recognized the photograph of ROSENBERG as the person arrested by the FBI in Russian Espionage activities and stated that although he has spoken to ROSENBERG over the phone on several instances, he has never met him. EASTON stated that in addition to the Premier Welding Company, he is also partners with JOSEPH L. HELLER in a company doing business as Precision Associates located at that same address. EASTON stated that ROSENBERG had been doing work for Precision Associates and that HELLER had made all contacts with him. EASTON had no further knowledge of ROSENBERG and failed to recognize photographs of any of the known associates of ROSENBERG.

JOSEPH L. HELLER advised that he has known ROSENBERG for about five weeks. He stated that his only contact with ROSENBERG was in the line of business and that ROSENBERG had done some machine work for his company. HELLER stated that he had been talking to ROSENBERG over the phone the day before he was arrested. He advised that he had absolutely no knowledge of the true character of ROSENBERG and stated that the work he had done for his company had been satisfactory.

HELLER further stated that his company is engaged in 100% government work making small parts for instruments used by the Army Signal Corps. He failed to recognize any of the known associates of ROSENBERG by photograph and further stated that he had no knowledge of the United Purchasers and Distributors of the G. and R. Engineering Products Company.

Re memo of SA JAMES P. LEE at New York, New York, dated

The Romm Trading Company
1177 Bedford Avenue
Brooklyn, New York

A review of the indices of the New York Office with regard to the above company was negative.

CYRIL ROMM, President of the Romm Company, was contacted at his place of business, which is presently located at 2535 Tilden Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. Romm stated that he is a dealer in new and used machinery and that he moved from the Bedford Avenue address approximately eight months ago. Romm advised that he did not recall Rosenberg either by name or photograph nor did he have any knowledge of the Pitt Machine Products Company. He stated that Rosenberg may have contacted him at some time with reference to machinery but that he did not recall the incident. ROMM stated that he made many such contacts and that unless he actually did business with the person there was little likelihood of him remembering the incident.

Morton Romm, who is the brother of Cyril Romm, stated that he had been associated with his brother in the machinery business at the Bedford Avenue address but he was unable to identify Rosenberg either by name or photograph. He had no knowledge of the Pitt Machine Products Company. Morton Romm is presently located at 301 East 98th Street, Brooklyn, New York where he has a small shop manufacturing novelty dishware.

MEMO:

Re: JULIUS ROSENBERG
ESPIONAGE - R

Reference is made to the memo. of SA James P Lee dated 7-24-50.

The following investigation was conducted by SA Lawrence D. Talbot at New York on 7-31; 8-1, 2-50.

Mr. JACK LEVITAN, Manager, Independent Tinware Company, 303 Cherry St., N.Y.C. advised that a search of his records since 1944 failed to locate any business contact with the United Purchasers & Distributors, 64 Sheriff St., the G & R Engineering Co. or the Pitt Machine Products Inc., both of 370 E. Houston St., N.Y.C. Mr LEVITAN stated that the photographs of the subject and Greenglass were not familiar to him.

Mr. LOUIS KANES, Co-owner, above company was unable to recall any contact with the above companies and he could not identify the photo. of Greenglass and the subject.

Mr. IRVING G FELDMAN, President, Keystone Bolt & Nut Corp., 123 Church St., N.Y.C. advised that a search of the company records reflected no transactions with ROSENBERG or his companies. Mr FELDMAN said that the photographs of the subject and GREENGLASS were not familiar to him.

Mr SYDNEY SILVERSTEIN, Vice-President and Miss CELIL SCHLESINGER, Secretary to FELDMAN, Keystone Bolt & Nut Corp., 123 Church St., N.Y.C. stated that they did not recognize the photographs of ROSENBERG or GREENGLASS. It was also advised that this company was formerly located at 62 Murray St., N.Y.C. and that the NAT JOSEPHY, former Purchasing Agent, is now located at 84 Warren St., N.Y.C.

Mr NATHAN JOSEPHY, President, Warren Fastenings Corp., 84 Warren St., N.Y.C. advised that he had formerly been associated with the Keystone Bolt & Nut Corp. resigning in 1946. He said that he did not recall the subject or any of the above mentioned companies nor was he able to identify the photographs of the subject or GREENGLASS.

Mr. MAURICE L MALKIN, 2355 Ocean Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y. was interviewed at INS, 70 Columbus Ave., N.Y.C. where he is employed as a Special Consultant, and he advised that the New York Machine Rebuilders, 295 E 4th St., N.Y.C was licensed in his wife's name, Mrs LAURA MALKIN, however he operated the business from its start in 1946 until they went out of business in August 1948. He said that the records for the company are no longer in existence however he recalled that in the Spring or early Summer of 1948 the Pitt Machine Products Inc., located in the 300 block on E. Houston St., N.Y.C. did one job for him which amounted to about $25.00. He said that they made him several job press rollers which were to be used on printing machines. MALKIN advised that was unable to recall the names of any persons associated with the Pitt Machine Products and he was unable to identify ROSENBERG's photograph. The photograph of GREENGLASS was shown to MALKIN and he said that he believed that GREENGLASS was the party that handled his order and that they discussed the job on two or three occasions. MALKIN said that his conversations at this company were of a short duration and that nothing was discussed except business.

He also advised that the Pitt Machine Products was recommended to him by a printer named SKOLNICA who has a small printing shop on E. Houston St. near Sheriff St., N.Y.C. He further described the location of this shop as being near a Police Station and believed that a ice cream store separated the shop and the station.

Mr. SAMUEL ENGELSON, 1750 E 172 St., Bronx, N.Y., advised that he had organized and operated the ENGELSON'S Precision Industries, 342 Madison Avenue, N.Y.C from about 2-8-47 to 5-16-47 at which time he liquidated the company. He said that all records pertaining to the Precision Industries have been destroyed however he said that he was unable to recall having done any business with the afore mentioned companies of ROSENBERG'S. Photographs of the subject and GREENGLASS were exhibited to ENGELSON with negative results.

Mr. DANIEL F. FASANO, 50-18 66 St., Woodside, N.Y. advised that Dan's Express and Trucking Co. was in business only in 1946 and 1947 and that he and his brother owned and operated this company. He said that he did not recognize the photographs of ROSENBERG and GREENGLASS and he was unable to recall ever having done business with them. Mr FASANO checked his records and advised that he had done the work for one G & R Engineering Co., 300 E 2 St., N.Y.C. on the following dates:

- 9-29-46 -- picked up a load and delivered it to 20 St.
- 10-11-46 -- 31 bars of steel from Canal St. and delivered to G & R.
- 11-22-46 -- 28 bars of steel from G & R to Sturtevant Corp., Bronx.
- 2-3-47 -- 1500 pounds of steel from G & R to Sturtevant Corp., Bronx.

Mr FASANO was unable to furnish and further information concerning the above transactions.
